Cowardly Vote Tables Gender Resolution at OH State School Board

The resolution at the Ohio State Board of Education opposing harmful gender ideology in schools did not pass the board on Wednesday, October 12, unfortunately. It was referred to the executive committee for further action. The solid conservatives on the board did not vote for this cowardly delaying tactic, but they were not enough to keep this from happening. Apparently, some folks do not want the record of their votes to show up before the November election.

This is the resolution that confronted the enormous problems in the Biden Administration’s proposed changes to Title IX, the law banning discrimination based on “sex” in schools, protecting female opportunities like sports. The proposed changes would redefine “sex” to include gender confused males, along with many other harmful and destructive pro-“LGBTQ” changes. Why is the book, A Court of Mist and Fury, the subject of so many parent complaints?

WARNING: Graphic content
by Debbie DeGroff
After reading this 626-page book, which Accelerated Reader describes as containing profanity, sexual situations, and violence, I understood why so many parents were risking being raided by Garland’s thugs for objecting to its availability in school classrooms or libraries...
